Ye, you can have permission to post in your institutional repository. This was the last book Pierian Press did for the Library Orientation Series. It may have been missed on the web site, since Mr. Wall was loosing his sight. We still have books and ship when requested, but for the most part Pierian Press is no longer active.

Mary Ellen Wall

On Tuesday, July 16, 2019, 2:16:07 PM EDT, Wiegand, Stephanie <Stephanie.Wiegand@unco.edu> wrote:

Hello,

A paper I wrote is included in the Pierian Press publication Discover, Connect, Engage: Creative Integration of Information Literacy (Library Orientation Series – Papers and Session Materials Presented at the Thirty-Third National LOEX Library Instruction Conference, 2007).

I am wondering if you allow individual authors to post preprints or post-prints in an institutional repository (my institution’s repository can be found at https://digscholarship.unco.edu). I did search Pierian’s website, but was unable to find a listing for the volume.

My paper is entitled Exploding Head Syndrome: Engaging Students through Real-Life Examples on pages 97-100.

Thank you for your time and any information you are able to provide,

Stephanie

Stephanie Wiegand

Health Sciences Librarian & Associate Professor

University Libraries
This message originated from outside UNC. Please use caution when opening attachments or following links. Do not enter your UNC credentials when prompted by external links.